

Mr. Ankur Rajvanshi

Mr Ankur Rajvanshi is Head of Department of Mechanical Engineering.

He is associated with B.I.T group since 2008 and having more than 10 years of teaching and Industrial experience. He has done his B.Tech in Mechanical Engineering and M.Tech in Production Engineering.

He is having rich experience of teaching wide variety of subjects such as Elements of Mechanical Engineering, Manufacturing Processes, Measurement and Metrology with special focus on teaching internal combustion engines and automobile engineering. He believes in project based teaching learning & mentored several projects related to I.C engines and Automobile. Many of his students, under his guidance participated in go- kart fabrication and racing competitions and won several prizes at national level. He has also published a paper on "production of bio diesel from acid oil" in international journal & currently he is writing a book on advancements of internal combustion engines and fuel technology.

He is also having Wipro mission 10 x certification and life time membership of ISTE.